

Acknowledgement: from 2019 Universities for SDG forum at NUK

A small step, a big dream to share and partner. Universities are to foster talents of tomorrow, but we are not disjointed to our communities and the rest of the world.

While United Nations and every country around the world are promoting SDGs, the universities are in fact in a catalytic position to accelerate the process of accomplishing these tasks, e.g., by educating our youngsters and connecting them with partners from every corner of the world, and of course, learning by doing.

On behalf of National University of Kaohsiung, I truly appreciate your admirable participation, valuable presentation, exciting exchange and communications. I believe we have learned a lot from each other and are leaping a big step forward and closer to the goals.

Before we get together next year at Srinakharinwirot University (SWU) in Thailand, for another milestone, as kicked off by the signed MOU, we could expect a lot of activities to be initiated, in addition to student/faculty exchanges, teaching/research project collaboration, etc. Let's work together.

Thank you very much for coming to NUK. ขอขอบคุณ. Terima kasih. 謝謝.

Leon S.L. Wang, President
National University of Kaohsiung
Taiwan